Natural gas hub

Europe and the United States

A rise in demand for petroleum, are looking to countries like Nigeria for natural gas, an affordable and clean source of energy that will increase its appeal to international investors that the costly project is currently the way to Nigeria.'

The timing of the project could not be better, with global warming, carbon standards tightening, and concern over global warming mounting, many foreign investors, are confident that the construction of the project in Ogun State will serve as an important hub for international investors. According to Kayode Samuel, the Information Commissioner, 'The project will stimulate further foreign trade in Nigeria. Additionally, a major deep-sea port is scheduled for a separate report in the Ogun State government and will serve as an important hub for international investors. State officials are confident that the construction of the project will provide new opportunities for Nigerians as well as boost local economies.'

INTERVIEW WITH GOVERNOR OTUNBA GBEENGA DANIEL

'We are definitely rearranging the way politics is played in Nigeria.'

Ogun State governor speaks on Nigeria's new administration and Ogun’s potential for investors

How do you see Ogun’s potential for investors?

As a country, in my opinion, remains an unexplored area. Some areas still attract venture capital efforts and the amount of effort, time, and money they are investing in locations like Ogun State are small and not visible to the people in the city. This is something that I am working on, we are trying to change this because there are many investors that are wanting for this is the emerging market.

You have stated that your vision for Ogun State is to make it the major commercial hub in Nigeria and West Africa. How are you going to achieve this?

We are taking advantage of the geographic location of Ogun State as well as its proximity to many foreign investors including those in the United States, Europe, Asia, and Africa. We have a great potential to attract foreign investors, and we are looking at ways to make this a reality.
